Summer Faculty Development Programs on Spoken Tutorial, IIT Bombay Software MOOCs for University departments in Anna University and Affiliated Faculty

IIT Bombay is inviting you to go for Faculty Development Programs (FDPs) this summer, right there in your own campus! Anna University has successfully partnered with Spoken Tutorial (ST), IIT Bombay since 2013. This is an NMEICT, MHRD. Government of India initiative to enhance IT/ Software skill set of our students. Not only have over 400 Engineering, colleges offered various ST courses to their students, every summer innumerable Faculty take courses via FDPs.

Now, per AICTE norms at least one MOOCs/ICT course is mandated – ST in summer is a terrific option. See link <http://spoken-tutorial.org/news/moocs-acceptance/faculty-development-program-through-aicte-mandated-moocs-course-training-tamil-nadu/> Added advantage is that courses like LaTeX for technical writing of theses/ projects etc., Drupal for web development & Scilab for advanced mathematical computation – are very useful for our Faculty in their Teaching & Research. The FDP is just of 2 hours, followed by self completion and Test for Certificates. Spoken Tutorial is an easy way to master Open Source Software on your own.

How to arrange :

1. The University Department can arrange for these FDPs for all the Faculty/ Research Scholar/ PG Students of your university departments.
2. All the Affiliated and Constituent Colleges especially those coming under QIC Nodals Centres can also schedule Spoken Tutorial FDPs for their departments and for the faculty from their cluster colleges.
3. Courses like Drupal (Web development) & Python (Scripting) or any other course, select from our website can also be chosen. <http://spoken-tutorial.org>
4. After the completion of the FDP, do make sure status report of Spoken Tutorial Training is submitted to the Director of CFD, Anna University and Tamil Nadu Spoken Tutorial Coordinator.
